Licensure of dental assistants in the United States is the responsibility of individual states, the District of Columbia, and US territories jurisdictions, with licensure decisions made by jurisdictional dental boards. Specific dental assisting licensure requirements vary among jurisdictions. The Wallace State Community College Dental Assisting program is accredited by the Commission on Dental Accreditation (CODA). Dental assistants are not currently licensed in the State of Alabama. The Wallace State Community College Dental Assisting program may meet the educational requirements for licensure in other states. State licensing requirements are always subject to change at the discretion of the state licensing board. For any questions regarding licensure, please contact the agency directly to confirm your eligibility for licensure prior to enrolling in the program. Please refer to the ADA website for links to state board websites. <https://www.ada.org/resources/licensure/state-dental-boards>
